Cougar Days Feature Carolonic Bells Tour

Cougar Days Tuesday activities will be in action under the direction of the Student Relations and Financial Office.

Every hour BYU students may tour the Carolonic Bells in the Eyring Science Center and attend government offices on fourth floor of the Wilkinson Center.

North trophy case of the center will display rare and valuable coins, courtesy of the Centennial Coin Club. Wayne E. Eyring, director of the Business Management Department will speak on "Getting Your Dollars" at 2 p.m. The "Spirit of the Y" film will be shown at noon and 1 p.m. in the Provo Theater.

Song requests on the Carolonic Bells will be played between 5 and 6 p.m. Students may call extension 3019, Student Relations.

...Or Else

Immunizations at University expense are available today at the Health Center from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Dr. Cloyd Hofheins, director of the Health Center, recommends influenza boosters for those who received their first shot last year.

Tetanus-Diphtheria, Smallpox, and T.B. skin tests will also be given.

Eleventh-Hour Change In Enforcement Ruling

Mandatory enforcement of the parking ordinance will be postponed until June 1, 1963.

The Provo Commission unanimously passed a motion late Monday night to enable students and landlords to work out on-street parking problems.

ASBYU President Paul Gilbert commended the commission on its decision as a "satisfactory solution for all parties involved." Gilbert pledged the united support of the student body to "voluntarily comply with the ordinance wherever possible."

Ray Murdock, commissioner over Provo traffic, concluded the four-hour meeting in the Provo City Hall by making the motion to extend the date for enforcement of the parking ordinance.

Six Finalists To Compete For Crown

There were 106 BYU coeds hoping to win the crown. But 100 were eliminated, now six remain.

Six BYU coeds seek to be Homecoming Queen and the choice is now up to the student body.

One will be selected (two will be attendants) while the others must chalk it up as a runner-up.

The girls were chosen by eight judges as a result of three components: beauty, poise, and personality. In-depth interviews, and an evening night's extemporaneous speaking competition.

Utah and California claim five finalists and the sixth finalist is from Hong Kong. Each finalist is a junior and senior, is equally qualified.

The finalists are Mary Aldredge, Gloria Beckstead, Angela Erin Moore, Elaine Schwartz, and Chris Smith.

As Aldredge, a striking brunette, is a junior majoring in Elementary Education and CDFR. Gloria Beckstead is a blonde and blithe Gloria Beckstead is sponsored by the International Folk Dancers.

Erin Moore is the home of blonde hair. Schwartz, also sponsored by the International Folk Dancers.

Gloria Beckstead is the sea queen. Angela Chan is her own society for Asian Studies is sponsoring the ebony-haired majoring in Elementary Education.

Coeds will be introduced on Thursday afternoon to students and faculty for their favorites that will be Friday in designated about campus.

ROGER WILLIAMS, WINNER OF 10 GOLD RECORDS, is surrounded by the six Homecoming Queen finalists selected Monday night. Concert tickets go on sale at 6 a.m. Nov. 3 in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom.

'Mr. Piano' To Perform At Concert

Mr. Piano will cast a musical shadow at the Homecoming Concert Thursday, November 9.

Roger Williams, famous for his interpretations of "Autumn Leaves" and "Born Free," will perform in concert at 8 p.m. in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Tickets for the Homecoming Concert go on sale Friday, Nov. 3, 6 a.m. in the Wilkinson Center Ballroom. Students may pick up one set (two tickets) for green seats, and one additional set of two tickets for bleacher seats. All seats are reserved.

TICKET COST

Cost for green seat tickets is $1.75 per seat; bleacher seats, $1.50 each; and concert dance, $2 per couple.

The Wilkinson Center will open at 4:30 a.m. Nov. 3, to accommodate those wishing to stand in line for tickets. Eight lines of chairs will be set up for students so they may study or sleep while waiting in line. Tickets will be distributed on a first come, first served basis.

Roger Williams has sold over 12 million record albums to date. He has been awarded 10 Gold Records and has produced 45 best-selling singles.

RENOWNED PIANIST

Williams was introduced to music early in life by his mother, who was director of the Kansas State College Symphony. Although his career was nearly cut short by a hand injury in the Navy, he successfully recovered. Williams is now credited with having sold more albums than all other living pianists combined.

Williams received his B.S. degree from Idaho State College, and his Master's degree from Drake University Conservatory of Music.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LAWLESSNESS?

Editor:
Once again the timing is right for BYU students to show the world how we feel about lawlessness. This week, our fellow "Americans" who oppose the war in Vietnam and our draft system are demonstrating across the nation. They plan to stir up action in various cities and culminate the week's activities with a demonstration at the Pentagon Saturday.

To the point, I think when a student comes to college, he or she must understand the laws of the land. If a student is caught breaking a law, he or she should be punished. If a student is caught breaking a law, he or she should be punished.

to vote in city elections, but we can make sure all those eligible do vote and we can campaign for our own candidate. We could canvas this town with no trouble at all to get out a favorable vote for OUR CANDIDATE.

I think it's about time BYU students arise and make their voices heard where it counts. Let's stop hollering into the wind and put our efforts where it counts most. In the ballot box.

CIVILITY

Editor:
I have been reading the letters to the editor in the Daily Universe and I am amazed at the number of letters that are full of civility and respect for the opinions of others.

Following Dr. O'Dea's kind response, another student endorsed of Dr. O'Dea: "Have you ever gotten down on your knees and asked God if the Book of Mormon is true and if Joseph Smith was a Prophet?" It is deplorable that visitors to this campus have been asked such personal questions in a public assembly. These people were guests, not objects for an inspection.

It is conceivable that during a limited visitation, there is a limited amount of time for a student to ask questions. If a student has a question, he or she should ask it during the limited time. If a student has a question, he or she should ask it during the limited time.

Choice Of Major:
The Big Decision

By Nancy Twitty

NORTH VIETNAM AWAITS U.S. ELECTIONS

LONDON (UPI)—The North Vietnamese regime has a higher price tag on peace talks and ruled out any possibility of negotiations before the U.S. presidential election in November, a highly qualified Communist diplomat said Monday.

The source said that President Ho Chi Minh would not go to the conference table now even if the United States conditionally stopped bombing.

ED CHINESE GLOAT OVER DEMONSTRATIONS

HONG KONG (UPI)—Communist China gloated Monday about the antiwar demonstrations outside the Pentagon. Peking said President Johnson was "seized with fear." "The demonstration took place at a time when U.S. imperialism was badly routed by the heroic Vietnamese people in the battlefield in Vietnam," the broadcast, quoting the state New China News Agency, said.

COMPULSORY SCHOOL ATTENDANCE UPHELD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court declined today to become involved in a long-standing dispute between Amish parents and state laws compelling them to send their children to school after finishing the eighth grade.

Without comment, the Court turned down an appeal by an Amish member of the religious sect which would have asked a test case in 19 states where there are Amish communities.

President Firm, Bennett Wary of Asian War

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Monday voiced U.S. determination to continue its war effort in Vietnam, while Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, called the Vietnam conflict a phase of World War

III. President, condemning mass antiwar violence over the weekend, declared the United States will not be deterred in its effort by "our frustration, our defiance, our unwillingness to say the course."

REPLY TO PROTESTS

Johnson's remarks, made just after the last of some 35,000 demonstrators were hauled away from the besieged Pentagon, appeared to be a reply to the giant two-day demonstration by some 100 protesters who demanded an immediate end to the war.

Bennett said Monday that the Vietnam conflict may be "a World War III. Communist, historians may yet record this as one of the major battles of World War III, whose existence we... may not have recognized because Vietnam is so completely different from that of World War I and Bennett said in speech prepared for the Senate.

COMMUNISTS TACTICS

in wars in 1914 and 1939 begin with the aggressors thought they had enough strength to conquer the world," he said.

At this time the Communists — weakened by World War II — began immediately to move against Asia they considered relatively helpless. The world was to be swallowed whole, but broken up in little bites," Bennett Bennett warned against premature negotiations or withdrawal from Vietnam, saying that such a move could permit Communist China or Russia "to acquire effective control over all of Asia. If that happened, it would create a powerful economic and military base from which Communist China could move against the rest of the world."

Last of Convicted Klansmen Freed on Bail

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—A federal judge, disclosing that he and a juror had been threatened, allowed bond Monday for the last two of seven Ku Klux Klansmen convicted in a historic civil rights case last week. He vowed to revoke the bond if there are any additional bombings. "I don't want any more of this strong-arm stuff in the southern district of Mississippi. It's out the window," said U.S. District Judge Harold Cox.

What the interviewers won't tell you about General Electric.

They won't tell you about all the job opportunities we have for college graduates — engineers, science, business and liberal arts majors. Not that they wouldn't like to. It's just that there are too many jobs and too little time. In a half-hour interview our man would barely have time to outline the scope and diversity of the opportunities we offer. That's why we published a brochure called "Starting Points at General Electric." In plain language it will tell you exactly how and where a person with your qualifications can start a career with General Electric. Pick up a copy at your Placement Office. Then arrange for a productive session with our interviewer. He'll be on your campus soon.

Play In Final Week

The Barretts of Wimpole Street shed a week of playing to sell audiences, and began the final act of performances Monday.

There are still tickets available each of this week's performances, especially the Tuesday matinee at 3:30 today. The Tuesday times are an innovation this year. According to Dr. Preston Reddill, director of both Barefoot the Park and The Barretts of Wimpole Street, the matinees at U have not caught on and will be discontinued if not wanted. The play is an historically accurate curate dramatization of The Immortal Levers by Francis Winwar. Rudolph Besier did the dramatization.

Wye Deadline

The deadline for manuscripts to be considered for this semester's Wye magazine is Friday.

Tom Williams, editor, announced that manuscripts may be turned into English Dept. office, A255 JKB, until 5 p.m.

Short stories should be under 2,000 words, prose selections about 1,800 words.

Students with questions should contact Williams or leave a message in the English Dept.

Work Is Motto Of Cougar Band

By Janice Leavitt
Universe Music Writer

"To tell you the truth, I make it completely unbearable for those kids," was Grant Elkington's candid comment about the Cougar Marching Band.

Elkington is the Associate Director of Bands under Dr. Richard Ballou and in charge of the Cougar Band.

With the Homecoming game in sight, the band's necessity as both a pep stimulator and a precision marching group comes to the fore. Now composed of some 100 "dedicated" musicians, the band has been in rehearsal since early September.

According to Elkington, students who wished to become members of the band were invited to come back to school on Sept. 9 "at their own expense" to begin practice for their year's performances at football and basketball games.

The key words for the first three weeks of practice were "effort and discipline" and anyone that was willing to meet these requirements was given a chance to play. "If a kid can get a note out of a horn, we can teach him to play," said Elkington. "It's so easy to teach him to work." Only those with the real desire to do a good job without complaint were allowed to stay.

After the initial dropping-out, the band was divided into squads of four people. Each squad leader was responsible for his squad's ability to execute the precision drilling and picture formations in each pre-game, half-time and post-game show.

According to Elkington it is one of few bands in the nation able to do both precision drill and picture formations. The band is the only one in this region basing its marching on individual squads rather than the whole, and often imprecise unit. With this method the band has greater maneuverability and saves rehearsal time which can then be used for the perfection of routines. All routines for the band are chosen by Ballou and Elkington during the summer. They ask several arrangers to prepare the music to suit the marching band. Drills and formations are then plotted so every band member knows what his "feet must do on this note."

Gridiron Upsets Hit Pigskin 'Guessers'; Challenger Wins

College football portrayed its unpredictable self last weekend as several favored teams bit the dust—causing the Daily Universe's board of prognosticators to suffer one of its worst weeks at guessing the outcome of gridiron games across the nation.

Gary Dayton of the Wilkinson Center Barber Shop and guest Kimball Hepworth scored 10-5 records to top this week's board.

Meanwhile a challenger, Wes Jensen, a junior from San Mateo, Calif., missed only two games for a 13-2 score — best among all entries. Jensen will join the regular board next week.

Leaders on the regular board of prognosticators, Sports Editor Gary Wood, Associate Editor Glen Wilkerson, and the IBM 7090, each scored 8-7 records.

The biggest upsets Saturday were Tennessee's 24-13 victory over Alabama, Minnesota's 21-0 win over Michigan State, Oregon State's surprising 25-14 triumph over second-ranked Purdue, Utah's 33-29 victory against Arizona and Texas Western's 47-17 drubbing of BYU.

BYU's soccer team defeated Allemania of Salt Lake City, 4-1, in its second home game of the fall season on Haws Field last Saturday.

In the first half competition was fierce, with both teams fighting for possession of the ball. Two Allemania players were taken off the field with injuries.

The Cougars scored first when Horst Mastag received a pass from Ralph Wolferts and booted the ball in for the only tally of the first half.

Both teams looked strong in the second half and competition became more rugged, with scattered flights and tempers flaring throughout.

Allemania was pressing the hardest but the Y defense, led by the brilliant goalkeeping of Gert Jensen and the strong tackling of his backs Brad Miller, Manu Nouri, and Roberto Saavedra thwarted the attempts made by Allemania.

With less than 15 minutes left in the game Mastag moved downfield with the ball and slammed in another goal for the Cougars. Allemania then monopolized on a few minor Y mistakes and Juachin Jelito scored the only goal of the game for the visitors.

Then the unbeatable combination of Wolferts and Mastag broke the game wide open by pushing Allemania to the defensive — allowing Billy Forrest and Dornwell Ira to score for BYU, place team ahead to stay 4-1.

BYU's B team defeated Gila, 1-0, also in Saturday's action.

If your major is listed here, IBM wants to see you November 9th

Your major, whatever it is, makes you a prime candidate for a career with IBM. Sign up for an interview at your placement office right away—even if you're headed for graduate school or military service.

Why is IBM interested in so many different people?

The basic reason is growth. Information processing is the fastest growing, fastest changing major industry in the world. IBM computers and other products are being used to solve problems in widely diverse areas, such as government, law, education, medicine, science, the humanities. We need people with almost every kind of background. That's why we want to talk with you.

Whatever your major, you could do a lot of good things at IBM. Change the world (maybe). Make money (certainly). Continue your education (through our Tuition Refund Program, for example). And have a wide choice of places to work (over 300 locations throughout the United States).

We'll be on campus to interview for careers in Marketing, Computer Applications, Programming, Research and Development, Manufacturing, Customer Engineering, and Finance and Administration. Come see us.

P. S. If you can't see us on campus, write to Mr. E. C. Purcell, Jr., IBM Corporation, 3424 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, California 90010.
